

---

TV tonight: an optimistic new dating show for Married at First Sight fans

Published by

Hollie Richardson, Graeme Virtue, Hannah J Davies, Ali Catterall

Estimated reading time

1 min

Added on

2025-09-03

Address

<https://www.theguardian.com/tv-and-radio/2025/sep/03/tv-tonight-an-optimistic-new-dating-show-for-married-at-first-sight-fans>

---

TV tonight: an optimistic new dating show for Married at First Sight fans

Stranded on Honeymoon Island

9pm, BBC One

Davina McCall plays matchmaker in a dating series that isn't a million miles away from Married at First Sight, except the pairs hook up at a speed-dating event and are sent to a tropical island with basic supplies and a composting loo ("I've never had 'the poo chat' with a man!" squirms one bride). We meet the first three couples – a refreshingly diverse mix of people with "sheer blind optimism" – and it all goes well until a bombshell drops. Hollie Richardson

The Lost Neanderthals

8pm, BBC Four

It is amazing what a tooth can tell you. That is one of the main takeaways from this absorbing film about the Mandrin Cave in southern France, a natural shelter for humans since prehistoric times. The archaeological treasure trove is where the remains of a Neanderthal nicknamed Thorin were uncovered, revealing details about what life was like 50,000 years ago. Graeme Virtue

Nazis, U-boats and the Battle for the Atlantic

9pm, BBC Two

The first in a two-part documentary about one of the second world war's most crucial campaigns features vivid footage of deep-sea wrecks off the coast of Ireland. We also hear from David Brew – he sadly grew up knowing little about his father, whose Royal Navy ship was torpedoed by a Nazi sub. Hannah J Davies

Long Lost Family: The Mother and Baby Home Scandal

9pm, ITV1

---

Jean was sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd in Surrey when she was 16 – just one of the unmarried mothers caught in the scandal of mother and baby homes. Now she is looking for her long-lost daughter in a two-parter that will unlock the deepest emotions. HR

Mudtown

9pm, U&Alibi

The intensity ramps up in this drama about a magistrate, Claire (Erin Richards), who deals with a case too close to home. When her friend Beca (Lauren Morais) brings her son, Sonny (Lloyd Meredith), over for dinner, Claire reconsiders his involvement in the recent shooting. HR

Limbs in the Loch: Catching a Killer

10pm, BBC Two

William Beggs was a "very normal, very engaging, very charming" member of the Young Conservatives. He also harboured dark thoughts and fantasies – and had a shadowy, horrific past. When teenager Barry Wallace was found dismembered and dumped in Loch Lomond in 1999, Beggs was the prime suspect but he had vanished. This deeply disturbing true-crime account continues. Ali Catterall

---

Produced by wallabag with tcpdf

Please open an issue if you have trouble with the display of this E-Book on your device.