
TV tonight: Mark Ruffalo stars in new drama by Mare of Easttown creator

Published by

Hollie Richardson,Alexi Duggins,Nicole Vassell,Phil Harrison,Stuart Heritage

Estimated reading time

2 min

Added on

2025-09-08

Address

<https://www.theguardian.com/tv-and-radio/2025/sep/08/tv-tonight-mark-ruffalo-stars-as-fbi-agent-in-fantastic-new-drama>

TV tonight: Mark Ruffalo stars in new drama by Mare of Easttown creator

Task

9pm, Sky Atlantic

A compelling start for this new crime drama from the creator of Mare of Easttown, set in the Philadelphia suburbs. Robbie (Tom Pelphrey) is a binman by day, coping with the death of his brother while looking after his kids and niece, and maybe even looking for love. By night, though, he and his mate Cliff (Raúl Castillo) dress in Halloween costumes and burgle members of a drug-dealing biker gang. Enter Mark Ruffalo's Tom, an FBI agent dealing with his own family bereavement, and put on the case with an inexperienced taskforce before a turf war escalates. It's deeply layered, fantastically written and proof that the autumn nights are here. Hollie Richardson

Thailand: The Dark Side of Paradise

10pm, BBC Three

Ex-Love Islander Zara McDermott continues her reinvention as a documentary presenter with this look at the bits of Thai backpacking that don't involve full moon parties. She visits Bangkok Immigration Detention Centre, and delves into Thailand's illegal sex industry – with her treatment by police suggesting they weren't regular Love Island viewers. Alexi Duggins

The Guest

9pm, BBC One

The desperate situation for cleaner Ria (Gabrielle Creevy) – deadbeat boyfriend, receiving an eviction notice, killing a man – forces her to make bad decision after bad decision. Her employer, Fran (Eve Myles), is being far too friendly to be legit, and at several moments in this second episode of the psychological thriller you just want to scream "Run!". HR

Disaster at Sea: The Piper Alpha Story

9pm, BBC Two

The three-part documentary about the world's deadliest offshore oil disaster concludes, detailing the aftermath of the blaze that killed 167 men in the North Sea. Through actors using the real testimony of survivors, the final episode's inquiry exposes the errors and systemic failures that led to the devastating accident. Nicole Vassell

Stacey Dooley Sleeps Over

9pm, U&W

Marie Buchan is a single mother of eight regularly branded by tabloids as the "Benefits Queen" for sharing details of her lifestyle choices. Dooley – always free of judgment, but still firmly pressing – stays at her house in Birmingham for a couple of nights to find out more about Marie's life until now. HR

Elsbeth

9pm, Sky Witness

There is a significant flashback as the second season of this distinctive but divisive drama approaches its climax. With Judge Milton Crawford's path towards power becoming increasingly clear, Elsbeth delves deep into his past and explores a horrific cold case that potentially implicates him in a murder. But can she stand it up legally? Phil Harrison

Film choice

American Refugee (Ali LeRoi, 2021), 2.45am, Channel 4

While the title of this film (and the theme, about a Black family struggling through a societal collapse) hints at all manner of serious issues, the truth is that American Refugee is at heart a silly horror movie. Erika Alexander and Derek Luke play a couple whose mistimed relocation to the sticks mean that they're forced to share a bunker with an oddball survivalist. Things progress in almost all the ways you'd expect them to, but the tension remains palpably high throughout and there's an awful lot of fun to be had watching everything go to hell. SH

Produced by wallabag with tcpdf

Please open an issue if you have trouble with the display of this E-Book on your device.