
TV tonight: Martin Compston's guide to Las Vegas, his bizarre second home

Published by

Estimated reading time

3 min

Added on

2026-09-23

Address

<https://www.theguardian.com/tv-and-radio/2026/sep/23/tv-tonight-martin-compstons-guide-to-las-vegas-his-bizarre-second-home>

TV tonight: Martin Compston's guide to Las Vegas, his bizarre second home

Martin Compston: Living Las Vegas

10pm, Channel 4

Actor Compston is married to a woman from Vegas; this three-part documentary sees him trying to get a handle on a place that has never quite felt like home. He's a cheerful guide to this bizarre city of hype, neon and casinos, checking out a hotel room with its own basketball court and blowing a hypothetical $20k on four hands of blackjack. Eventually, you understand both the excitement and the reservations engendered by the place. Phil Harrison

The Secrets of Your Phone: They Don't Want You to Know

7pm, Channel 5

Are smartphones snooping on us? Because increasingly, it feels as if we're all buckling under an avalanche of personalised ads. The truth may be more disturbing: for all the hoo-ha, we're still supremely relaxed about handing over our "digital profiles". But we can, at least, erect some guardrails, as Alexis Conran discovers. Ali Catterall

Shakespeare & Hathaway: Private Investigators

8pm, U&Alibi

Love looks not with the eyes but with the mind. Will that help Stratford private eye duo Lu (Jo Joyner) and Frank (Mark Benton) when a heartsick client hires them to infiltrate a sensory-based matchmaking service? Judging by this opener, series six of the cosy crime drama is as fun as ever. Graeme Virtue

20 Years of Not Going Out

9pm, BBC One

Lee Mack's domestic sitcom is turning 20 – a feat that seemed unlikely when it was cancelled in 2009. It was given a stay of execution thanks to audience pressure and has thrived ever since: according to this breezy documentary, the secret is its clever balance between modernity and tradition. Season 15 begins immediately after. PH

9pm, Channel 4

Emily and Peter have a bold rebuild plan that will replace their London home with a pair of three-storey "cloud houses" inspired by the pastel colours and art deco curves of 1930s Miami architecture. But will they pass muster as McCloud houses? Kevin monitors a typically tumultuous project. GV

Sam Smith: Live at the London Coliseum

10.40pm, BBC One

The Grammy/Oscar/Brit winner is on a stripped-back "intimate" tour with a new album, Hazel Eyes, where their gorgeous vocals are front and centre. This specially recorded night at the London Coliseum also closes with their greatest hit, Stay With Me. Hollie Richardson

Film choice

Toy Story 5 (McKenna Harris and Andrew Stanton, 2026), Disney+

Not particularly hot off the production line – Toy Story 4 was seven years ago – Woody, Buzz and their boxful of plastic friends are back, but WALL-E director Andrew Stanton maintains the franchise's beguiling focus on the joys and pitfalls of childhood. With the retired Woody (Tom Hanks) absent, Joan Cusack's Jessie is the new sheriff in town/bedroom. But she faces an existential threat when her owner, Bonnie, ostracised by her tech-savvy peers, gets a tablet – the superior Lilypad "Lily" (Greta Lee) – and loses all interest in play. While having a dig at society's digital obsessions, it's also a nostalgic eulogy to a world where pure imagination and the capacity to be silly are cherished. Simon Wardell

The Love Hypothesis (Claire Scanlon, 2026), Prime Video

Weirdly, the bestselling novel on which Claire Scanlon's campus romance is based started life as Star Wars fan fiction about Rey and Kylo Ren. Not that you'd know it, save for the involvement in this film of Tom Bateman, Daisy Ridley's husband, who stars as Adam, AKA "Dr Evil", a loathed Stanford biology lecturer. He is persuaded by doctoral student Olive (Lili Reinhart) to pose as her boyfriend, so her best pal, Anh (Rachel Marsh), will date a boy Anh thinks Olive still fancies. In return, he will look more committed to the university and have his funding renewed. Love among the lab coats ensues. SW

Produced by wallabag with tcpdf

Please open an issue if you have trouble with the display of this E-Book on your device.