
TV tonight: Michael Sheen exposes a toxic scandal in north Wales

Published by

Phil Harrison, Hollie Richardson, Graeme Virtue, Simon Wardell

Estimated reading time

3 min

Added on

2026-08-24

Address

<https://www.theguardian.com/tv-and-radio/2026/aug/24/tv-tonight-michael-sheen-toxic-scandal-north-wales-bbc-two>

TV tonight: Michael Sheen exposes a toxic scandal in north Wales

Buried With Michael Sheen

9pm, BBC Two

There's a lagoon in Ruabon, north Wales, that is so toxic that the barrels containing the chemicals dumped in it have rotted away. Until about 20 years ago, children used to play around it. Michael Sheen's compassionate and enraging exposé of the alleged poisoning of parts of his homeland decades ago by contractors working for the now defunct chemical company Monsanto concludes with the actor meeting people with cancer who are searching for accountability. Spoiler alert: it's an uphill battle. Phil Harrison

Martin & Roman's Irish Road Trip

8pm, Channel 4

The final leg of the father and son's tour takes them to a snowy Northern Ireland. They spend a night in Ballygally Castle – said to be the most haunted hotel in the country – play a game of hurling, vampire-hunt, and swim in the freezing sea. You can't accuse them of not getting stuck in. Hollie Richardson

My Life Is Murder

8pm, U&Alibi

More low-stakes antipodean crime-solving fun with Lucy Lawless as investigator Alexa Crowe. This time, she deals with the case of a wealthy woman who is killed amid a dog custody dispute. She finds herself in the bizarre world of millionaire dating, before racing to save another pet victim. HR

Long Lost Family: Born Without Trace – What Happened Next

9pm, ITV1

The lovely but devastating show speaks to another pair of foundling siblings: Natasha and Lee-Ann want to know who left them as babies, two years apart, in the toilets of two different south London hospitals. And nurse Liz updates on what has happened since she shared her story of being found severely ill as a baby in a hedge. HR

Celebrity Hunted

9pm, Channel 4

Celebrity status adds a different dimension to this entertaining if always mildly sinister nationwide game of hide and seek. Is it really possible to blend in with the civilians? In this penultimate episode, one of our celebrities makes a basic error and seeks refuge with a known contact in Scotland. Oops. PH

Secret Lives of Gypsy Wives

10pm, Channel 4

The buzzy reality show starring Gypsy influencer Trewley Precious ends its first season on a high with the social media star celebrating her 26th birthday in typically boisterous style. But there is also an emotive wedding dress fitting for her sister Pearly and a potentially problematic brand partnership to consider. Graeme Virtue

Film choice

Howards End (James Ivory, 1992), 1.15pm, Film4

EM Forster's 1910 novel about class, money, love and a house in the country was styled into a prestige period drama by Merchant Ivory, aided by Ruth Praver Jhabvala's Oscar-winning script. Three levels of society come into conflict in a story of chance encounters, misguided charity and patriarchal hypocrisy. Anthony Hopkins's rigid, rich businessman, Henry Wilcox, is drawn to the bohemian, privileged Schlegel sisters, Margaret (Emma Thompson) and Helen (Helena Bonham Carter), while they get involved in the life of a poor clerk, Leonard Bast (Samuel West). Simon Wardell

Nightcrawler (Dan Gilroy, 2014), 9pm, Sky Atlantic

It may have dated somewhat in this age of people filming everything on their phones, but Dan Gilroy's dark 2014 drama is still wholly relevant in its clear-eyed critique of the public's obsession with true crime. Jake Gyllenhaal – hollow of eye and creepy of smile – plays Louis, a sociopathic petty thief who finds a new job driving around LA shooting graphic footage of police incidents for the local TV news. If it bleeds it leads, with his ratings-chasing boss, Nina (Rene Russo), encouraging Louis' worst tendencies. SW

Live sport

Premier League football: Fulham v Chelsea 6.30pm, Sky Sports Main Event. Crystal Palace v Manchester City is on Friday at 7pm.

Produced by wallabag with tcpdf

Please open an issue if you have trouble with the display of this E-Book on your device.