
TV tonight: Michael Gove finally gets to play prime minister in The Wargame

Published by

Phil Harrison,Hollie Richardson,Hannah Verdier,Graeme Virtue

Estimated reading time

1 min

Added on

2026-09-21

Address

<https://www.theguardian.com/tv-and-radio/2026/sep/21/tv-tonight-the-wargame-clickbait-clinic-david-olusoga>

TV tonight: Michael Gove finally gets to play prime minister in The Wargame

The Wargame

9pm, Sky One

Using political figures from our recent past, this docudrama maps out a British response to an escalating pattern of Russian aggression. Alongside Michael Gove (who gets to cosplay being prime minister at last), politicians including Harriet Harman and Nicola Sturgeon take their places round the cabinet table. Credible commitment to the concept is essential to make the drama elements work, and all manage it reasonably well – particularly the unnamed Potus with Russian sympathies ... Phil Harrison

Clickbait Clinic With Stacey Dooley

8.30pm, BBC One

Leg-lengthening surgery. If you can stomach it, hardy Stacey Dooley invites us to watch the process of a procedure (breaking both legs, inserting screws) to kick off this new series. She's looking into various health and wellness trends going viral on social media – this one being "heightmaxxing". Hollie Richardson

Finding Britain's Slave Traders With David Olusoga

9pm, BBC Two

If anyone doubted the violence and moral corruption underpinning Britain's imperial past, this two-part documentary will set them straight. David Olusoga investigates the register of British slave traders, which illuminates the links between the history of modern institutions (including the royal family) and the trade in human misery. Bleak but important. PH

999: What Happened Next

9pm, Channel 4

There are some brutal "it could happen to you" stories in tonight's episode, which traces the aftermath of emergency calls. A woman getting ready for a Christmas night out is stabbed in her own home and a gang stages a series of burglaries in an affluent area. Hannah Verdier

Colin from Accounts

10pm, BBC Two

Gordon (Patrick Brammall) and Ashley (Harriet Dyer) have split up from their very attractive partners – but that doesn't mean they're ready to get back together. In fact, Ashley brings a date to a sex party, which Gordon ends up at too. It unravels into another hilarious night of excruciating events. HR

Lucy Letby: Scapegoat?

10pm, Channel 5

After being found guilty of killing babies in her care, the UK's most notorious neonatal nurse was jailed for life in 2023. But in the three years since Letby's sentencing, the prosecution's clinical and statistical evidence has been repeatedly challenged. This one-off documentary re-examines key points in a highly emotive case. Graeme Virtue

Produced by wallabag with tcpdf

Please open an issue if you have trouble with the display of this E-Book on your device.